YOUR SUPPORT WILL HELP SAVE LIVES!

Since the 1980s the number of people surviving after receiving a blood cancer diagnosis has been improving. This proves that when you support medical research, you really do save lives!

However, there is more to be done to find better treatments and cures and save even more lives. That's why supporting the world-leading blood cancer clinical trials at Concord Cancer Centre, Concord Hospital is so vitally important.

FOUNDATION FOR A BLOODY GREAT CAUSE

About Us

With the Sydney Local Health District's endorsement and support, Foundation for a Bloody Great Cause Limited was established in March 2019.

It was created to further the objectives of The Bloody Great Committee, which has been fundraising for the world-leading blood cancer clinical trials at Concord Cancer Centre, Concord Hospital since 2013.

More than 600 patients with Leukaemia, Lymphoma, Myeloma and other blood disorders have participated in this research and have benefited greatly from cutting-edge treatments, long before they are publicly available.

For many patients, participating in this clinical research program is their only hope for a cure and a better quality of life.

Help give blood cancer patients greater hope!

HAEMATOLOGY CLINICAL RESEARCH UNIT

About Us

The Haematology Clinical Research Unit at Concord Hospital was established in 2005. It is now one of the largest clinical trials units in Australia – and the largest clinical research unit for blood cancers in NSW.

Our team, led by the Director of the Clinical Research Unit, Dr Jane Estell and Unit Manager, Dr Shona Childs, includes eight haematologists, research fellows, and more than a dozen data managers, research nurses, trial pharmacists and medical students. We also have the entire department's laboratory, nursing, pharmacy and clerical staff behind us.

We conduct world-leading, patient-centred clinical trials to access and develop innovative therapies to treat patients with blood cancers and other blood disorders.

Our quality work and independence have made us an international research leader ensuring that we continue to deliver world-class care, locally. To guarantee our independence and ensure our financial viability, we rely heavily on local fundraising to support our work - that's why your support is so important.
